STEAMBOAT AND BARGE LINE TO

Launching a definite campaign and organization to in mote and place in operation an independent steamboat and barge line on the Mississippi river will be discussed at a mass meeting of shippers and business men called for the Chamber of Commerce Priday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meeting will have before it the report of the survey and investigation of the special river transportation committee which has been handling the matter for several weeks. From this report the next work will be outlined.

From this report the next work will be outlined.

It is made clear in the call of the meeting that the time has come for definite action. The meeting will not be one of solicitation or donations but one of discursion as to the most effective means to be adopted now that statistics are in hand. Chairman Milton H. Hunt of the committee is optimistic over the findings of his workers. They have a complete survey with every detail shown accurately that the shippers may know just what effort a new line of atteamers will cost and just what returns and what benefits will accrue from it.

Early response to the call shows that everal hundred business men will be resent. Every one interested is in-ited.

"The preliminary stage has passed." said Mr. Hunt, "and we are now ready to do real work. We have the facts to present and it is up to the husiness men to meet with, us and to give the excice and counsel necessary to insure the successful completion of the project. It is their work and they must give their attention to organization that the most efficient system possible may be put into effect."

Test Sawdust Brick In Acetylene Flame

Tests are being nade here of a saw-dust brick, the invention of E. H. Orr, formerly of Seattle but now of Atlanta, with the view to organizing a company to manufacture the product here if new building material meets the requirements of a permanent building block.

In a demonstration held at the John
A. Denie's Sons company, South Front street. Tuesday, the sawdust brick withstood the flame of an acetylene torch applied for two minutes without damage. The side of the brick opposite the flame did not become heated. Immediately after the heat test, the brick was plunged in water without injury to
it. Other tests to prove the durability of the material will be made by scientists in the East.

Not only sawdust, but almost any vegetable matter may be made into prick by this process, the inventor says.

Not only sawdust, but almost any vegetable matter may be made into brick by this process, the inventor says. The noninflammable qualities of the material is the result of a secret chemical process, On account of the abundance and cheapness of sawdust in this locality, the new type of brick offers great commercial possibilities, local business men believe.

Those who winnessed the demonstration Thermany were: Dan C. Newton, city building inspector; George Mahan, Jr., architect; R. M. Birmingham, tumberman; R. B. Spencer, architect; Charles M. Sims, contractor; J. R. Coates, altorney, and L. J. Moss and Clarence Devoy of John A. Dennie's Sons company.

Charge Painter. Sold Dope On Side

N. E. Green, painter, denied in city court Tuesday that he was a dope peddler, but in view of the fact that the arresting officer had found in his possession a large paper sack which contained large quantities of morphine, codeine, and "Jake." Green was bound over to the state on a narcotic charge. Green was arrested in the band stand in Forrest park, the officer testifying that he had seen another man talking with Green, and he was sure a sale-had been made, although he did not get the second man.

If He Is Convicted He'll Do Time, Eh?

Eddie Wilson, negro, didn't have the time, so he got the time, and when arcested, he had the time. The only trouble was that Eddle got the time from the residence of H. L. Newton, 558 LaClede. The officer identified the watch in city court Tuesday as one which had been pawned by Wilson who claimed that it had been given to him by a roomer to pay his room rent. Judge Barker decided the evidence warranted a trial by the state, and accordingly Wilson was bound over.

Bind Taxi Driver Over To State, But Get $25 En Route

In spite of differences in testimony in the case of Ed. Onley, taxl driver, in city court Tuesday charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, he was bound over to the state. At the same time, the city fined him $25 on the charge, which is both a city and a state offense. It was claimed that Onley, who owns and operates a taxl stand at Main and Linden, recklessly drove his car into another driven by Jim Taylor, negro, and wrecked it. Onley claimed it was Taylor's fault, and Taylor claimed it was Onley's fault. Both had witnesses to uphoid their respective sides.

EDUCATION DISCUSSED BY KIWANIS SPEAKER

Expenditure and facilities for education in Massachusetts and other states in comparison with the measure expenditure in Tennessee and Memphis were contrasted by Dr. Charles E. Diehl, president of Southwestern Presbyterian university, who spoke before the Kilwanis club at their weekly luncheon Wednesday at Hotel Gayoso.

Dr. Diehl showed where facilities here would stop the traffic between points in other states to Nassiville and other sections where universities and colleges are located. Attention has been called to newspaper items showing that several trainloads or students have passed through Memphis in the last few days bound for other schools, which for the greater part could not stop. Series because of no facilities.

Full co-operation in the university campaign has been piedged by the Kilwanians. Cards showing the "A. B. C. of the Memphis College Campaign," and buttons, were distributed at the luncheon.

How would you like to operate a barber shop with nothing but lions for patrons? This occupation doesn't sound like a particularly safe one, especially for a man more than 60 years of age, but there is such a man with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Balley Shows Combined, coming to Memphia Saturday, Oct. 2 at North Parkway and Dunlap, who does nothing else but serve as valet for the 22 big lions and llonesses and three tiny lion cubs in the menagerie.

Every lion in the great zoo requires a certain amount of attention every day. At least once a week each one must have his nails clipped, otherwise the nails become long, sharp and dangerous, Manicuring wild animals is like earrying civilization into the jungle and, for the men who do the work, it is almost as exciting as hunting his game. It is not the work for a nervous person. Animals prefer to keep clean in their own way, and even a sedate old lion resents the arrificial cleansing processes of civilization.

There are frequently some exciting times during the hours that Frank Howland, the lion valet, is at work.

Divorce Business Gets Boost; Twenty

Gets Boost; Twenty Apply For Freedom

Divorce business in Shelby county received a big boost Wednesday, when 20 bills were filed in circuit court. It was the largest single filing of the year.

The most startling among the Wednesday applications for divorce was that of Mrs. Nellie H. Cavanaugh, who sued E. H. Cavanaugh. She alleged that Cavanaugh now is held in jail in Atlanta on a charge of forgery. She said he formerly worked in Memphis for Federal Revenue Agent Pitts, as a stool pigeon, but she charged that his methods were "too rank for even a government revenue agent." His employment with Pitts terminated, she said, when he forged a check on Pitts.

Mrs. Cavanaugh alleged that during her married life, dating from Nov. 21, 1919, she repeatedly had been in jail because of association with her husband. He has written to her from the Atlanta jail, threatening her life, when he gets out, she alleged, in her petition, that this was the second time she had wed Dacus, and now she is seeking her second divorce from him. She charged him with abandonment and nonsupport.

Abandonment and nonsupport was the leading cause of action in the 20 bills.

Galveston Workers FINE THREE MORE Threatened, Says Governor Of Texas

AUSTIN. Tex., Sept. 22.—Threats have been made to the effect that when troops have been withdrawn from Galveston workers now on duty there would be run out of town or killed, said Gov. Hobby today in a message to the legislature. He continued:

"That this result would obtain is the belief of well-informed people who are on the ground. I would not have entertained even the thought of removing the troops without providing means of protection in place of the troops. This means has been to the troops. This means has been to the troops. The means has been to the troops of the troops. This means has been to the troops of the troops. This means has been to the troops of the troops. The rest of the message was devoted to a description of conditions at Galevaston before and after the declaration of martial law and no specific mention was made of the bill proposed to provide more stringent regulations for handling similar situations, which has been sent out by the governor.

Former Guatemalan President Accused Of Aiding Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22—Details of an alleged nation-wide plot whereny John Fisher, father or William Fisher, consul for Venezucia at San Francisco, was cast into a prison in Guatemala in 1995 without a charge being placed against him and released only after he had handed over $500,000 in securities of the Ocas Raliroad company of Guatemala to former President Manuel El Cabrera, and Adolpho Stahl, millionaire San Francisco merchant, became known here yesterday when Fisher's attorneys argued in the district court of appeal for a return of the securities with interest added. The sum now would be $800,000, they claimed. Fisher, who is an American, did not file the suit in a Ghatemalan court because he had referred the matter to the American state department and because he desired to have the Guatemalan statute of limitations, which runs 10 years, expite, so he could bring suit against Stahl here. gainst Stabl here.

In his complaint Fisher accused Stabl and former President Cabrera of conniving to rob him.

CORTESE TICKETS SELLING RAPIDLY FOR HUNTING DOVES

Cortese brothers report a big advance nie of seats for their world star course continues to be an expensive pastline, with E. M. Yerger, federal and state game warden, on the trails of the hunters. Three more men paid fines in Squire John J. McNamara's court on Wednesday for the pastime. It cost them $17.89 each. this fall and winter. Tickets are now this fall and winter. Tickets are now on sale at 0 K. Houck Prane company. Interest in the artists this season is even greater than last year. Alma Gluck and her husband, Zimbalist, are, of course, the principal attractions, but Matzensuer-Johnson, Mabei Garrison and the Flomaley quarter have a tremendous following. All are leaders in their respective lines. Cortese brothers have requested patrons to make early arrangements for season tickets, as most of the choice seats have been sold. An unsual demand is reported. them $17.80 each.

The men arrested and fined were C.
